In addition, the Group exercises the voting rights associated with the shares from the perspective of achieving the objective of the shareholding.

Impact of climate change-related risks and earning opportunities on business activities and profits

(1) Organizational governance relating to climate-related risks and opportunities

- The governing body responsible for monitoring and managing sustainability-related risks and opportunities at the Company is the Board of Directors. The monitoring and managing process specifically involves the Board undertaking final evaluation and monitoring of sustainability-related initiatives, risks and opportunities, based on reports and recommendations from the Project Team provided once a year in principle by the President and Representative Director on the state of progress in sustainability activities and initiatives across the whole Group. In addition, the Board formulates and reviews the Group's policy on sustainability, and makes decisions when major adjustments to sustainability countermeasures are necessary. The President and Representative Director makes decisions on any other matters related to sustainability, and these are monitored by the Board.

- A Sustainability Project Team (the "Project Team") was established in April 2025 under the purview of the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and tasked with identifying sustainability-related risks and opportunities, as well as planning and executing initiatives to tackle related issues, with the goal of expanding and enriching sustainability initiatives, ultimately aiming to enhance corporate value in the medium to long term. In addition to the CFO, the Project Team is made up of department heads from departments including human resources, legal, information systems and general affairs. Information is gathered from each department on issues affecting sustainability within the Group, both from the external environment, including changes in legislation and other conditions, and from within the Group, in terms of the status of non-financial capital. The Project Team examines matters such as the setting and review of targets and the design and implementation of necessary countermeasures, and issues reports and recommendations to the President and Representative Director.

- Climate-related matters are also handled by the framework described above.

(2) Strategy

- The Company believes the nature of the Group's business activities is less harmful to the environment than the manufacturing industry in general, but in view of societal expectations, we regard action on climate change as a management challenge, and engage in related initiatives.

(i) Adoption of renewable energy

The Company recognizes that switching the source of electricity for use at our business sites to renewable energy would be an effective and feasible method of reducing the Group's greenhouse gas emissions. We are promoting the use of renewable energy at the Company's main domestic business sites, as well as examining the possibility of switching other facilities to renewable energy moving forward.

(ii) Reducing use of plastics

The Company is working to reduce its use of plastics, including by bolstering its digital sales as part of efforts set forth within the Medium-term Business Plan to "diversify earnings opportunities by strengthening customer contact points."

(iii) Promoting environmentally friendly selection and reuse of fixtures and furniture

When choosing fixtures, fittings and furniture for new business sites, we endeavor to select items that were made using sustainable materials or otherwise created using environmentally conscious production practices. In addition, we hand over to reuse merchants any fixtures, fittings and furniture that are no longer needed as a result of refurbishments at existing business sites. Items handed over are stored in warehouses located in urban areas and mainly redeployed in offices located in urban areas, reducing the amount of CO2 emissions compared with transporting items to out-of-town locations and thus contributing to the reuse-driven circular economy.

(3) Risk Management

- Personnel responsible for each Company department are charged with identifying sustainability-related risks in areas within the management scope of their department, evaluating whether such risks need to be addressed based on factors such as their degree of impact and likelihood of occurrence, and reporting these to the Project Team. They also identify sustainability-related opportunities, evaluate factors such as potential impact on the business, and report these to the Project Team, too.

- The Project Team considers matters including the formulation and revisiting of targets as well as the design and implementation of necessary countermeasures based on sustainability-related risk and opportunity reports provided by personnel responsible for each department twice a year in principle. It then provides reports and recommendations to the President and Representative Director.

- The President and Representative Director makes decisions on items such as targets and countermeasures contained within the reports and recommendations provided by the Project Team. They also issue instructions to personnel responsible for each department via the Project Team.

- Climate-related matters are also handled by the framework described above.

(4) Metrics & targets

The Project Team is in the process of setting materiality from the perspective of enhancing corporate value over the medium to long term, after which it will reexamine metrics and targets with regard to sustainability-related risks and opportunities. However, as of March 31, 2025, our quantitative metric was the amount of CO2 emitted by our Japanese offices, data centers, and amusement facilities through the use of electricity. We target net-zero emissions from our Japanese offices and data centers by 2030. We aim for a reduction of 50% at amusement facilities by 2050.

In addition, the Company conducted a survey on the effectiveness of board meetings and received positive feedback from Board members. Based on the above, the Company confirms that the Board is functioning in an effective manner.

- In principle, Board meetings are held once a month (16 meetings were held in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025), whereupon the Board engages in discussions and makes decisions on matters that require the Board's resolution in a timely manner, while also receiving reports on the Group's businesses and providing supervision over operational execution.
- Each of the directors maintains a high attendance rate (100% for 11 of the 12 directors, and 87.5% for 1), and sufficient time was secured for active discussions.
- The Board subjects operational execution to effective discipline, with Board discussions at times resulting in the revision or revisiting of proposed items.

This Board of Directors establishes the Basic Policy on the Executive Remuneration System based on consultation with this committee, and the committee decides the individual amounts and the nature of remuneration for directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members) in accordance with the Basic Policy on the Executive Remuneration System established by the Board of Directors, based on the authority granted to it by the Board of Directors. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Basic Policy on the Executive Remuneration System <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. For other executive directors, the ratio shall be determined on an individual basis, taking into account earnings performance and other achievements in the director's realm of responsibility. Directors that additionally serve in such roles as directors of subsidiaries may also receive remuneration from the relevant subsidiary. -Remuneration for Non-Executive Directors shall comprise fixed remuneration (monetary) and restricted stock remuneration. The ratio shall be determined on an individual basis, taking into account where the director is domiciled among other factors. -Fixed remuneration (monetary) shall be determined based upon role, remuneration in past years, the company performance to date, the need to retain talented human resources, research by specialized third-party organizations, remuneration trends at comparable companies, and economic conditions. - The Company offers restricted stock remuneration in order to provide a long-term incentive for directors (excluding directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee members) to work to achieve sustained growth and to enhance corporate value, as well as to encourage them to have an even greater sense of shared value with shareholders. The Remuneration & Nomination Committee determines the remuneration value of the restricted stock, taking into account the balance with the monetary remuneration. The restricted stock is granted once annually during the second quarter.
